

The 3-Shift Check-In

Companion to "Invest Ahead of the Rubric: 3 Shifts for the AI-Native Era" · Amy Wu · amywucoaching.com

① HOW YOU SEE THE WORK

From executor of pieces → to problem framer.

CALIBRATION CHECK — what calibration actually asks:

- ☐ Have you taken initiative that didn't come from your manager?
- ☐ Have you challenged or inspired the team on what could be better?
- ☐ When your name comes up in calibration, would the room see you as a peer?

INITIATIVE vs. EXECUTION:

Are you optimizing the roadmap — or questioning whether the roadmap is solving the right problem?

② HOW YOU SEE YOUR TIME

From going by agenda → to time as precious.

Your aspirational hourly rate: $ _____

This week — three things you turned down that didn't clear it:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

③ HOW YOU SEE YOURSELF

From external scaffolding → to who you're choosing to become.

WHAT'S COSTUME — WHAT TRAVELS?

List three things you do well today. Mark which would travel if your title evaporated tomorrow.

1. _____ ☐ travels
2. _____ ☐ travels
3. _____ ☐ travels

THE BET QUESTION — what's one bet you've been holding back because the rubric won't reward it yet?

THIS WEEK

WORK Pick ONE maintenance-trap thing. Spend less time on it next week.

TIME Refuse one inbound this week that doesn't clear your hourly rate.

SELF Take a small first step on the bet — by Friday.

Want to talk through your check-in? 30% off a coaching package — promo code MAVEN30 · amywucoaching.com